EDITOR’S NOTE

Welcome to this edition of Ilomon, where we continue to celebrate the soul of Enashipai Resort & Spa, a place where modern luxury dances with ancient Maasai traditions.

This issue brings a story that has stirred both wonder and nostalgia, The Return of the pod. After years away, the hippos have made their way back to the lakeside, a powerful reminder that when nature feels safe, it returns home. It’s a rare and moving sight that reconnects us with the rhythms of the land and reminds us why this place is so extraordinary.

What makes Enashipai truly special is not only what we’ve built, but what we continue to honour, the land, the people, and the traditions that give the Rift Valley its magic. Whether this is your first read or you’re returning to these pages, we invite you to see Enashipai as home.

May your journey through this edition bring you happiness and a deeper connection to the wonders around us.

Warmly,

Amy Wambui
Head of Sales and Marketing

ONE MORE, FOR THE MEMORIES

The quiet hum of good company. The clink of glass meeting glass. A game of chess, a cue-ball break, a shared laugh.

Tucked inside Enashipai like a well-kept secret, Ol Tepesi Bar is the kind of place that makes you want to lean in, to conversations, to stories, to the slow swirl of wine in a glass. It's all wood and warmth and well-aged atmosphere, with just the right blend of old soul and modern spirit.

Some say it gives off gentleman's club energy. We say it gives off "pull up a chair, stay a little longer" energy, and yes, it's for everyone (provided you are 18+). A pool table in the corner with just enough friendly competition to stir things up. Chess boards waiting for someone to say, "Fancy a game?" And in the background, smooth music and easy conversation, the kind that flows better with each sip.

The drinks? Oh, the drinks. Whether it's a neat single malt, a cheeky cocktail with a twist, or a generous glass of red that makes you sigh a little, the bartenders here don't just pour, they curate. (Go ahead, ask for a recommendation. You'll end up with a new favourite.)

Ol Tepesi isn't loud. It doesn't need to be. It's the kind of bar where couples reconnect over a shared bottle, friends raise toasts just because, and solo guests end up deep in thought, or deep in conversation with a stranger-turned-friend.

It's where the night slows. Where laughter lingers in the corners. Where "just one more" turns into one more memory.

And really, isn't that what holidays are for?

SYMPHONY OF EXPERIENCES

FATHERS OF ENASHIPAI

DAVID MWANGI
FOOD AND BEVERAGE SERVICE

What's one thing you are proud of as a dad?

Seeing my kids grow with hope, knowing they have a dependable dad who is always there for them. It fills me with pride to be reliable both as a father and a team member.

FREDRICK OKAL
GYM INSTRUCTOR / ANIMATOR

One piece of advice you would give to your younger self?

To my younger self, I'd say: Patience is a virtue, cherish the moments, and trust the process. As a father, I've learned that life's journey is just as important as the destination. Enjoy the little ones' laughter, the late-night conversations, and the messy milestones, they'll shape you into the person you're meant to be.

JASON CHARLES M. MAINA
IT SUPPORT

What's a memory with your child that always makes you smile?

There was this one time she decided to wear my shoes, and I took a photo. Later, when I showed my dad, he laughed and told me I had done the exact same thing at about the same age. That moment still warms my heart.

JOEL K. MBUGUA
ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

What's a memory with your children that always makes you smile?

Working on school assignments under the new Competency-Based Curriculum. The way they ask challenging questions, knowing they already have the answers, always makes me smile.

AGAPITUS MANYA
HOUSEKEEPING - PUBLIC AREAS/GROUNDS

What's a memory with your child(ren) that always makes you smile?

Watching my son Johnstone join high school, he looked back at me, gave a big smile and a thumbs-up, and said, 'Bye Dad, I'll make you proud!' That moment still gives me goosebumps and makes me smile every time I think about it.

MEET THE GUEST

Mark Steve - CEO, SpotOn Vacations

What inspired you to become a travel agent, and what do you enjoy most about the role?

Travel has always fascinated me, the thrill of discovering new places, cultures, and experiences. I founded SpotOn Vacations with a vision to make memorable travel accessible and seamless. What I enjoy most is curating experiences that leave a lasting impression. Seeing clients come back with glowing reviews, photos, and gratitude makes it all worth it.

What are the key factors you consider when recommending a hotel to your clients?

We look at location, guest experience, value for money, staff professionalism, and consistency in service. Cleanliness, safety, and uniqueness also play a huge role. If a hotel feels like a "home away from home" with that added touch of magic, it's a winner.

What type of travellers do you mostly work with, and what do they typically look for in a hotel stay?

We work with a wide range, couples on romantic getaways, families seeking fun and comfort, corporate groups, and adventure seekers. Most clients today look for convenience, Wi-Fi, excellent food, great hospitality, and something "Instagram-worthy."

What makes Enashipai a great choice for your clients?

This property blends charm with world-class service. From the warm welcome to the thoughtful amenities, it offers the kind of experience that reflects quality and care, and that's exactly what our clients expect.

What kind of feedback have you received from guests who have stayed here?

Guests consistently praise the staff's hospitality, the peaceful ambiance, the well-maintained rooms, and the extra mile the team goes to make their stay special. It's one of those places people often say they'll return to, and they actually do.

How important is personalised service when selecting a hotel for your clients?

It's everything. Personalised service is what turns a good stay into a memorable one. Whether it's a surprise birthday setup, dietary accommodations, or just remembering a guest's name, those little things count.

Have you noticed any travel trends shaping the way people book hotels?

Absolutely. Travellers today are booking more based on experiences rather than just destinations. They want immersive stays, boutique hotels, wellness retreats, sustainable properties, and curated itineraries. Social media and peer reviews have also become incredibly influential.

What's one thing this hotel does exceptionally well that keeps your clients coming back?

Attention to detail. Every guest is treated like a VIP, and that consistency builds loyalty. From welcome drinks to check-out surprises, the hotel adds thoughtful touches that guests remember.

If you could create an ideal package for your clients here, what would it include?

A 3-night stay in a executive room, airport transfers, daily breakfast, one themed dinner experience, a spa treatment, and a curated excursion, all wrapped in top-tier service. That's the kind of package that sells itself.

Any advice for hotels looking to build strong relationships with travel agents?

Be reliable, communicate clearly, and treat agents as long-term partners, not just sales channels. Offer timely updates, agent rates, familiarization trips, and above all, deliver on your promise to the client. Trust and consistency are key.

CONVERSATIONS BY THE LAKE

Where ideas meet the lake

Tucked just steps from the shoreline, framed by trees and the hush of open sky, our newest multipurpose tent is anything but ordinary.

More than a venue, it's a fresh canvas for meaningful gatherings, a space where nature and ambition coexist seamlessly. With a generous capacity of over 400 guests, the tent is designed to accommodate everything from high-level strategy sessions and corporate retreats to spirited product launches and vibrant celebrations.

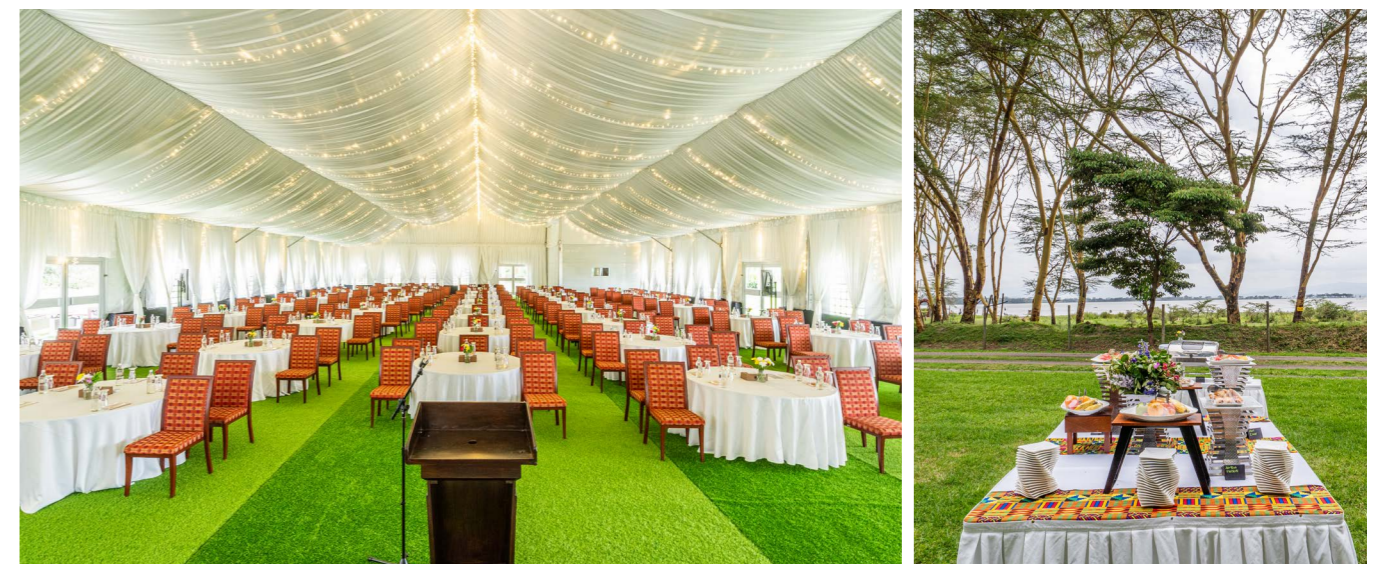

Here, meetings feel less like a task and more like a turning point. The air is lighter, the mood more open. Natural light filters through the canopy, casting a gentle glow across the space, while the breeze carries with it a sense of clarity and momentum. It's the kind of environment that encourages not just productivity, but presence, the full, intentional kind that turns ideas into action.

From annual AGMs and leadership forums to elegant weddings, cocktail receptions, and team appreciation dinners, this space flexes to fit the moment. It transforms with ease, equally at home hosting vision-setting keynotes as it is first dances and champagne toasts. Whether you're exchanging vows beneath soft drapery or exchanging ideas across a boardroom-style setup, the tent offers a backdrop that elevates every occasion.

Surrounded by greenery, grounded by nature, and opened up to expansive lake views, this is business and celebration, beautifully done. Because when the backdrop is this good, people don't just show up. They show up differently. With open minds. With full hearts. With energy that echoes long after the lights dim.

THE RETURN OF THE POD

A familiar and welcome sight has returned our lakeside, as a significant herd of hippos, believed to have migrated away from the area, has made a triumphant comeback. Their reappearance has been met with excitement by locals, signaling a potential positive shift in the ecological dynamics of Lake Naivasha.

While we are cautiously optimistic about the hippos' return. It suggests that conditions on the Enashipai side of the lake have become favourable once more, possibly due to a resurgence of preferred vegetation, or perhaps a decrease in disturbances that previously drove them away. The presence of a healthy hippo population is a strong indicator of a thriving wetland ecosystem, as they play a crucial role in maintaining the balance of their habitat through grazing and nutrient distribution. We are committed to coexisting harmoniously with these incredible animals.

FUN FACT:

- Breath-holding pros, they can hold their breath for up to 5 minutes underwater.
- Automatic breathing, even while sleeping underwater, hippos automatically surface to breathe, without waking up.

While the return of the pod is celebrated, it also serves as a gentle reminder of the delicate balance within Lake Naivasha's ecosystem. Continued efforts in sustainable tourism, responsible land management, and community awareness are vital to ensure that these magnificent creatures, and indeed all of Naivasha's diverse wildlife, can thrive in their natural habitat for generations to come.

We offer a unique opportunity for you to witness the hippo feeding by the lakeside, an experience that unfolds daily in the early afternoon. This captivating event is dependent on the hippos emerging from the lake to graze on the lush shores. When they do, guests can observe these magnificent creatures up close, creating a memorable and educational wildlife encounter against the stunning backdrop of Lake Naivasha.

FUN FACTS ABOUT HIPPOS:

- Not actually fat, hippos may look chubby, but they're mostly muscle. An adult male can weigh up to 3,200 kg!
- Name meaning, the word hippopotamus comes from greek and means "river horse."
- They can't swim, hippos can't actually swim or float! They walk or bounce along the bottom of rivers.

GO THE SCENIC ROUTE

A trail through nature, wellness, and a slower kind of adventure.

Some people take the gym with them on vacation. Others? They find a trail. Our 5km walking and cycling trail winds gently through leafy corridors, past open skies and quiet corners, inviting you to stretch more than just your legs. Here, wellness feels natural, unforced and unfiltered. The kind of fitness that happens because the path looks too beautiful not to follow.

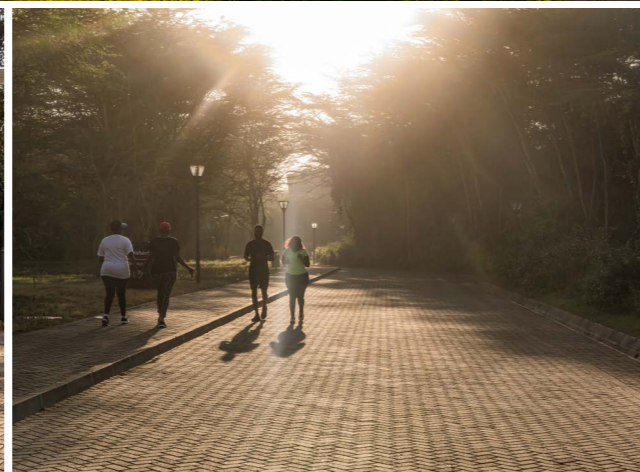

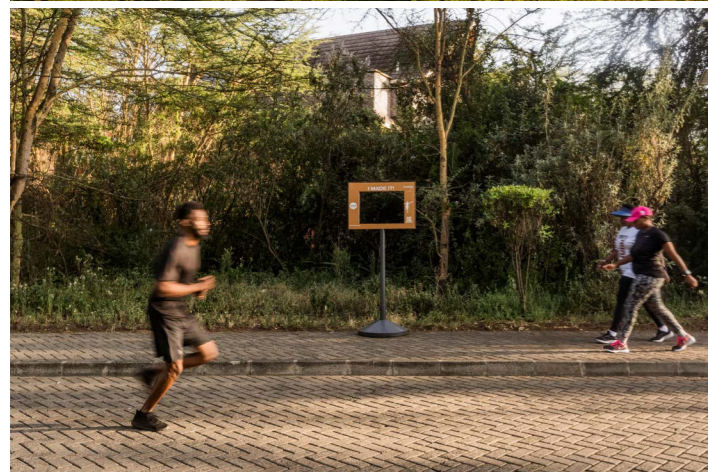

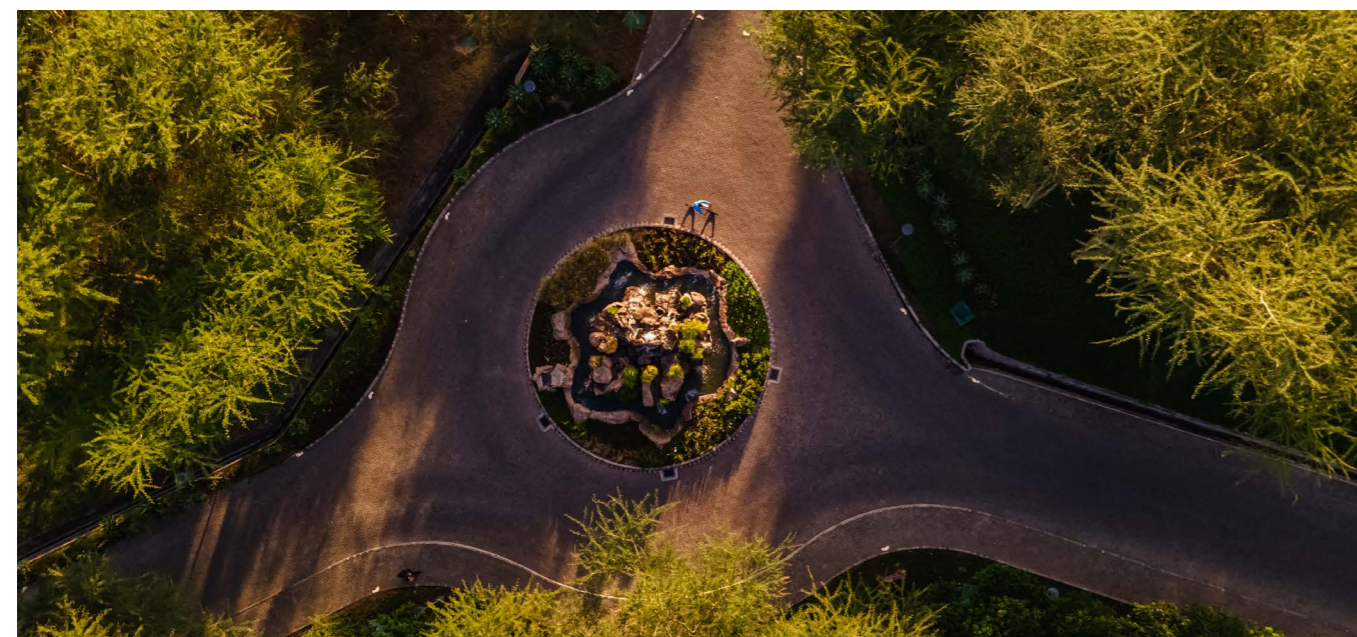

It's a space for early risers chasing the morning light. For slow walkers with coffee in hand. For couples chatting between steps, kids racing ahead on bikes, or solo guests pressing play on their favorite playlist and letting the pace carry them.

You don't have to train. You don't have to track. Just move and feel.

Every turn of the trail offers something different, shade, sunshine, stillness, space. You choose your pace. You choose your ride. And however you go, you're still doing something kind for your body and gentle on the earth.

So go the scenic route. Walk. Cycle. Glide. Move through your holiday with presence. Not because you have to, but because it feels right.

This is not exercise. It's ease. It's breath. It's the long, winding path to feeling like yourself again.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

Two voices. Two journeys. A shared spirit of ambition and resilience.

NATASHA WANJIRU KIRITU

Tell us a little about yourself and what you do.

My name is Natasha Wanjiru Kiritu. I am currently a third-year student at Kenyatta University, pursuing a Bachelor of Commerce degree. At the moment, I'm gaining practical experience and building my skills through a trainee position at Enashipai Resort and Spa, an opportunity I'm incredibly grateful for, especially as it allows me to apply what I'm learning in a real-world, five-star hospitality environment.

Growing up, what did you dream of becoming?

When I was growing up, I dreamt of becoming a doctor. It was a path I admired deeply because of its noble impact on people's lives. However, as I grew older and became more exposed to different fields, I developed a strong interest in business. Over time, that interest evolved into a clear passion, which led me to make the decision to study a business-related course at university.

What was a defining moment in your journey?

A defining moment in my journey was when I received support from Moja Tu Organization. They sponsored my education, which was life-changing. I'm also deeply thankful to the directors of Enashipai Resort and Spa, Ms. Wanjeri and Mr. James, who not only supported my high school education but have now extended their kindness by offering me the opportunity to work as a trainee at their resort. These acts of generosity and belief in me have shaped my life and opened doors I never imagined possible.

Who inspired or influenced you the most?

The person who has inspired me the most is my mother. She is the definition of resilience and strength. Her unwavering work ethic and determination, even in the face of challenges, have always motivated me to keep going and to believe in my own abilities.

What advice would you give your 8-year-old self?

If I could say something to my younger self, I would tell her to give herself grace, to take her time, and to enjoy every moment of her youth. I would remind her that she deserves all the good things coming her way and that it's okay to grow at her own pace.

What does success look like for you now?

Success means more than just achievements. It's about consistent growth, becoming better day by day, sharpening my skills, and making a positive impact on the people around me. It also means staying true to who I am, doing work that I'm proud of, and never losing myself in the process.

How would you describe the work you do?

Today, my work is about impact and growth. I am committed to empowering young people, sharing ideas that inspire them to believe in their potential, and working on initiatives that create opportunities for the future. Whether it is through my studies in nursing and public health, leadership roles, or writing my book, everything I do is tied to the idea of leaving a positive mark. I see my work as a blend of service, leadership, and creativity, all geared toward shaping better lives.

What kept you motivated through the tough seasons?

I have faced seasons where giving up seemed easier than going on moments of doubt, financial struggles, and uncertainty. What kept me going was my faith, my belief that God has a purpose for my life, and the unwavering support from people like my sponsors and mentors. The thought that someone believed in me enough to invest in my dreams pushed me to rise above challenges. I also reminded myself that my struggles could one day be someone else's hope.

Was there ever a moment you almost gave up? What helped you keep going?

Yes, there have been moments where I felt overwhelmed, especially before MOJA TU and Enashipai sponsorship came into my life. I did not see a way forward for my education or future, and it felt like my dreams were slipping away. What helped me keep going was a combination of prayer, the mentorship I received, and the realization that giving up would mean letting down not just myself but everyone who believed in me. I learned to focus on the bigger picture rather than the momentary pain.

What's one value or mindset that's guided you?

Resilience has been my guiding value. I have learned that success is not about avoiding failure but about standing up after every fall. I always tell myself that even the darkest seasons are temporary, and that mindset has allowed me to keep pushing forward. I also believe in gratitude remembering where I started and appreciating every step of progress.

JAIURUS MAHASI SING'ANG'A

Looking ahead, what are you excited about?

I am excited about the future because I see so many opportunities to make a difference. I am looking forward to completing my degree, specializing in Anesthesia nursing, and pursuing international opportunities. I am excited about launching my foundation and creating programs that help young people break barriers and achieve their dreams. I want to build something that lasts beyond me.

What do you want people to know about your story?

I want people to know that my story is proof that hope and support can transform lives. I did not have it all figured out, and there were moments I felt lost and broken, but with determination and the right people around me, I found my way. My journey is not just about me it is a reminder that every young person deserves a chance, and that even one act of kindness can change someone's future.

EVENTS AT ENASHIPAI

A quick snapshot of events we have had so far!

SIYARA STATE-OF-MIND

Where happiness, wellness, and self-care blend into one timeless experience.

The moment you step into Siyara Spa, the world begins to soften. Sounds hush. Shoulders lower. Breaths deepen. It's as if the space itself exhales for you, inviting you into a different state of being. A slower rhythm. A gentler way. A Siyara state of mind.

Nestled within the lush, green grounds of Enashipai Resort and Spa, Siyara draws deeply from the rich well of African wellness philosophies, honouring ancient traditions of touch, heat, scent, and rhythm. Each treatment is a thoughtfully curated ritual, designed not only to ease the body, but to restore the soul.

Beyond the spa, Siyara also features a full-service salon and barber, catering to all hair types with the same care, expertise, and attention to detail that defines the Siyara experience. You'll find women here laughing softly in robes, couples rediscovering connection through quiet presence, solo guests sipping herbal tea with their eyes closed and hearts open.

Because this space doesn't just cater to the body, it honors the whole person. In a world that often tells us to push through, Siyara offers another message: Come back to you.

It reminds us that self-care is not indulgent, it's essential. That rest is productive. That beauty glows brightest when it rises from within. You leave the spa not only glowing, but light. Centered. Clear. You remember who you are when you are kind to yourself.

This is more than a spa day. This is a return to balance. To joy. To a slower, softer, wiser way of living.

This is the Siyara state of mind.

HERB COATED BEEF MEDALLION

Serves: 1 person | Time: 30 minutes

Description:

Elevate your taste experience with perfectly seared succulent beef medallion, enrobe in fragrant herb crust that packs a punch of flavor in every bite.

Ingredients:

- 300-350 grams of beef tenderloin cut
- 1 Table spoon of chopped fresh thyme
- 20 grams of smoked paprika
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 1 sprig rosemary, finely chopped
- 1 red onion, sliced
- Salt & pepper
- Olive oil (2table spoons)
- 3 table spoons herb spread/fresh herb butter (mix garlic, paprika, parsley, oregano,1 teaspoon mustard)
- Micro greens
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 65 ml red wine
- 65 ml beef stock

Instructions:

1. Prep the beef medallion.
2. Add salt & pepper, coat generously with rosemary and thyme.
3. Heat a heavy skillet or cast-iron pan over medium heat.
4. Add olive oil.
5. Pan sear medallion sides first, turning gently and basting with fresh herbs butter.
6. Check each side and sear for rare/medium doneness, or depending to your liking finish in the oven for further 5 min. Alternatively, grill for a smoky edge.
7. Allow the steak to rest shortly before slicing into it, to help juices absorb back and not spill out from the steak.

For the sauce:

1. In the same pan, pour in red wine, beef brown stock and add thyme, bay leaf. Simmer until reduced by half. Stir in cream and herb-spread. Season to taste.
2. Serve with your favorite sides, buttery veges and garnish with crispy onions and micro-greens.

DESSERT : FINANCIER CAKE

Serves: 8 people | Time: 45 minutes

Description:

This is a richly almond cake that turns around your sweet buds into almond's elegance and soft flavor full of aroma and irresistible almonds sweetness.

Ingredients:

- 359 grams loose sugar
- 350 grams unsalted butter
- 8 pieces whole eggs
- 2 drops vanilla essence
- 250 grams baking flour
- 250 grams almond flour
- 200 grams chocolate ganache
- 4 pcs strawberries, goose berries for garnish

Instructions:

1. Cream butter and sugar for five minutes or until fluffy.
2. Add eggs and vanilla essence to the mixture.
3. In a separate mixing ball sift baking flour and almond flour together.
4. Fold the flour mixture into the creamed butter, to a soft and smooth consistence.
5. Pour the mixture in well-greased baking tray and bake in a pre-heated oven at 140 degrees celsius for 30 minutes.
6. Cool on a wire rack, garnish and serve.

Put this one on your BUCKET LIST. You won't be disappointed. The Villas are simply breathtaking. The decor is elegant and unique. The attention to detail by the interior or designers is awesome. Be sure to try the private outdoor shower. Every employee understands how to serve with excellence, a smile and genuine concern about customer satisfaction. Simply put, this is an outstanding resort.

Relaxing Getaway at Enashipai Resort
Our stay at Enashipai Resort & Spa was fantastic. The staff were friendly and professional, the rooms were clean and beautifully designed, and the food was fresh and varied.

We especially enjoyed the spa and pool, and the kids loved the play area.

The location near Lake Naivasha is perfect for boat rides and nature walks. While service during peak meal times could be a bit slow, everything else was top-notch.

Highly recommended for a peaceful, luxurious escape. Would definitely visit again.

Amazing! The scenery is amazing. The rooms are nice and that bed was extremely comfortable. The array and quality of food at the restaurant was also top notch.

Amazing spa!
Great experience at enashipai! The rooms were very comfortable and spacious. If you're there on a sunday, check out the outdoor brunch. Look for hippos near the water too! Make sure you visit the spa while you're here. The massage was so good!

Located comfortable walking distance to Lake Naivasha where hippos graze freely and can be observed safely within viewing distance. The resort is spread over a huge estate that is very well maintained and provides a safe and tranquil haven for those looking to get away from the buzz. The service is friendly and top notch. The accommodation is neat, comfortable and spacious with the villas providing ample accommodation for families. Big sparkling pool and lots of activities for kids. Very good quality meals served at the restaurants, a great Spa for treatments on the property. There is something for everyone. Approximate 2 hour drive from Nairobi that provides fantastic views of the Great Rift Valley. Worth the visit.
