Majestic Giraffes in Nakuru’s Sanctuaries

Nakuru’s conservancies are home to the towering giraffes, which are a true spectacle for visitors. These gentle giants can be observed roaming the open landscapes of Kilimandegé Sanctuary and other wildlife reserves. The giraffe’s graceful movements and impressive height make them a favourite among wildlife enthusiasts. Conservation efforts ensure that giraffes continue to thrive in their natural habitat, protected from threats like habitat destruction.

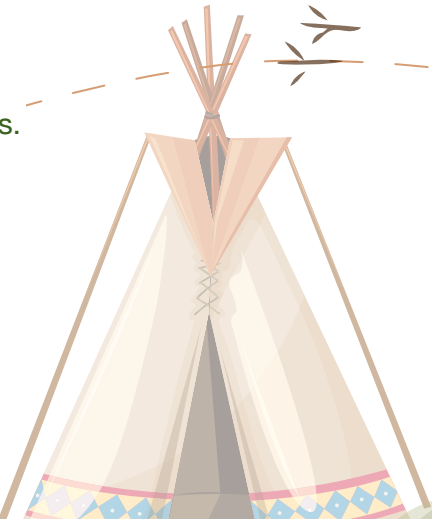

Conserving Black Rhinos at Lake Nakuru National Park

Lake Nakuru National Park plays a crucial role in protecting the critically endangered Black Rhinos. As one of the largest populations in Kenya, these magnificent creatures thrive in this poaching-free sanctuary. The park’s dedication to conservation is reinforced by round-the-clock patrols by armed rangers, ensuring a safe habitat for the rhinos. Visitors to the park can witness these giants while contributing to their protection.

Flamingos: The Pink Beauties of Nakuru

Renowned for its stunning seasonal display of greater and lesser flamingos, Lake Nakuru National Park has become a haven for birdwatchers. The park hosts over 400 bird species, but the sight of flamingos turning the lake’s shoreline pink is an unforgettable experience. However, due to rising water levels and changes in the water’s alkalinity, the flamingo population has been fluctuating. Conservation efforts focus on restoring the balance to ensure these iconic birds continue to grace the lake.

The Graceful Gazelles of Nakuru

The gazelles found in Nakuru are a symbol of agility and grace. Known for their quick movements and sleek build, gazelles can be seen darting across the plains of Kilimandegé Sanctuary. These elegant creatures contribute to the rich biodiversity of the region and are a vital part of the ecosystem. Ongoing conservation efforts are focused on preserving their habitat and ensuring that they remain a common sight for future generations.

Birdwatching Paradise: Kilimandegé Sanctuary

For bird lovers, Kilimandegé Sanctuary, translating to “Hill of Birds,” offers a treat with over 250 bird species. Visitors can spot diverse birds in a serene setting. The sanctuary is also home to giraffes, zebras, waterbucks, and gazelles, but birdwatching remains a highlight. A trip to Kilimandegé provides not only stunning wildlife views but also a chance to engage with Kenya’s conservation heritage.

PORTER

Q: When did you start working as a porter at the resort?

I have been with the resort since its inception, starting as a porter.

Q: What do you enjoy most about being a porter?

What I enjoy most is seeing our guests truly satisfied with the service I provide. Every smile and thank-you reminds me why I love what I do.

Q: How has your role evolved since you first started?

Over the years, my role has given me the unique opportunity to interact with high-profiled guests. These experiences have enriched my understanding of hospitality and the importance of personalized service.

Q: How has working as a porter shaped your skills and perspective?

Working as a porter has reinforced the ethos of our brand: "It's the little things." This philosophy has shaped my attention to detail, my ability to anticipate needs, and my understanding of how small gestures can make a big difference in a guest's experience.

Q: What inspires you to continue excelling in your role every day?

My role, though modest, is incredibly fulfilling because it provides for me and my family. The opportunity to make a difference in someone's stay and the dream of one day becoming a guide at the resort keep me motivated every single day.

Q: What advice would you give to someone interested in starting a career as a porter?

I would tell them to embrace the role with an open mind and a dedication to serving others. A porter's role may seem small, but it's the backbone of creating unforgettable first impressions and setting the tone for a guest's stay.

MIRIAM RONNY - 13 YEARS
BARISTA

Q: What has kept you passionate over the years?

Coffee is more than a beverage; it's an experience. I stay passionate because there's always something new to learn, whether it's a brewing technique, a unique origin, or a guest's story over a shared cup. The endless opportunities for creativity and connection keep my love for coffee alive.

Q: How has the role of a barista changed since you first started here?

When I began, being a barista was more about making drinks quickly and efficiently. Over the years, it has evolved into a more artistic and personal role. Guests now expect a crafted experience, from latte art to personalized recommendations, and that has made the role more dynamic and rewarding.

Q: What's your favourite coffee to prepare, and do you have a signature style?

My favourite coffee to prepare is classic cappuccino – it's the perfect balance of espresso, milk, and foam. My signature style is in creating intricate latte art, especially hearts and rosettas, which bring smiles to guest's faces.

Q: Can you recall a memorable interaction with a guest over a cup of coffee?

One guest their wedding anniversary, and I crafted a custom coffee flight with beans sourced from places they'd travelled as a couple. They were so touched that they sent a thank-you note and a very nice tip.

Q: What's one skill or technique that you think every great barista should have?

Attention to detail is critical. Whether it's calibrating the grinder for the perfect shot or ensuring consistent milk texture, precision makes all the difference.

Q: What advice would you give to someone starting a career as a barista?

Stay curious and committed to learning. The coffee world is a vast, and there's always more to explore. Also, remember that hospitality is just as important as technical skill.

Q: What keeps you motivated to serve that perfect cup of coffee each day?

The joy on a guest's face when they take that first sip of a beautifully prepared coffee- it's priceless. Knowing that I can make someone's day better keeps me inspired.

FESTIVITIES AT ENASHIPAI

Take a trip down memory lane

Festive celebrations at Enashipai have become a cherished tradition, transforming each season into a time of vibrant themes and memorable gatherings. During the holidays there is a contagious warmth and energy that brings together families, friends, and guests from all over to join in the festive spirit. Every year, Enashipai takes care to craft themes that go beyond just decoration, creating immersive experiences that guests can fully enjoy and remember.

In past years, we've explored a range of themes, each with its own character and charm. The 90s-themed party has been a guest favourite, inviting everyone to revisit the era's vibrant colors, iconic music, and nostalgic vibes. It's a celebration of carefree fun, where we dive into pop culture, classic dance hits, and bold fashion statements that bring youthful energy to the holiday.

The Maasai theme offered a different experience, celebrating one of Kenya's most iconic cultures. With traditional Maasai décor, music, and attire, this theme is close to our hearts, creating a space where guests can connect with the rich heritage of the region while celebrating together.

We've also transported guests to the Wild West with our Cowboy-theme, which brought a sense of adventure and playfulness to the festivities. This one has been a fun favourite, with rustic décor, hearty meals, and a lively atmosphere.

For those who appreciate an elegant, modern touch, the Afro-chic theme brought together African influences with a sleek, contemporary style—an elegant nod to Africa’s dynamic and fashionable side.

This year, Enashipai is hosting a tropical-themed Christmas, offering a refreshing twist on the traditional holiday. While Christmas is often associated with snowy landscapes and pine trees, this theme invites guests into a lush, green paradise with tropical colors, breezy décor, and a relaxed holiday vibe. Think bright florals, fruit displays, and soft music that gives the season a laid-back yet festive energy. It’s perfect for anyone looking to experience Christmas with a twist, embracing a setting that feels warm, vibrant, and perfectly suited to Kenya’s beautiful natural surroundings.

As we bid farewell to the year, Enashipai will welcome guests to an African royalty-themed New Year’s Eve celebration. This theme promises to honour the regal beauty and heritage of the African continent, with rich colors, intricate designs, and decorations inspired by traditional African motifs and royal customs. It’s a chance to celebrate New Year’s with a sense of grandeur, ushering in 2025 surrounded by elegance and tradition.

At Enashipai, the holidays are not just a time to celebrate but an opportunity to create lasting memories. Each themed party and activity brings its own story, whether it’s through music, décor, or the shared experience of coming together. This year’s festivities will continue that tradition, blending the tantalizing flavours of a tropical paradise with the rich heritage of African royalty, giving guests a holiday season to remember.

HERITAGE FRIDAYS AT ENASHIPAI

“Heritage Friday” is more than just a dress code—it’s a vibrant celebration of Maasai heritage. Every Friday, team members embrace this tradition by wearing clothing adorned with Maasai print fabric, and some even incorporate beautiful beadwork, bringing a touch of this culture to life. These colourful, symbolic patterns connect the staff with Kenya’s rich traditions, creating an immersive experience.

The Maasai prints, with their bold, geometric designs, are a reminder of the Maasai people’s deep connection to the land and their cultural values. Red represents bravery, blue the sky, and green, the land’s abundance. By wearing these fabrics, Enashipai’s staff help preserve and share the meaning behind each pattern, giving guests a glimpse into the cultural significance woven into the fabric.

While the tradition is carried by the staff, “Heritage Friday” becomes a powerful reminder of Kenya’s cultural vibrancy. It’s a celebration that honours the Maasai heritage, with each outfit telling a story of strength, resilience, and pride. This weekly tradition enriches the resort experience, offering a unique way to engage with the living culture of Kenya.

WRAP UP IN STYLE

Looking for an amazing end of year theme?

Retro Revival

Invite the team to travel back in time with a themed dress-up event! For a 70s Disco vibe, think bold colors, boho styles, afros, and platform shoes, all set to iconic disco and punk rock hits. Or, go 80s with décor inspired by The Breakfast Club and Back to the Future, and style like acid-wash jeans, shoulder pads, and leg warmers. Each decade promises a fun throwback for Millennials and Gen X alike!

Around the World

Create an inclusive celebration by inviting each department to dress in the national attire of a chosen country, or encourage team members to wear their own traditional clothing. Complement this with a global menu: start with Spanish gazpacho and Mediterranean salads, enjoy Italian pizza and British shepherd's pie for mains, and finish with Middle Eastern baklava or French crème brûlée for dessert.

Glow Party

As far as themes go, a glow party is easy to execute. Use neon decorations and lights for a colourful party. Encourage guests to wear bright neon clothing and accessories for an extra touch of brightness. An upbeat playlist to set a lively mood and dance-offs to make the event one for the books. This theme is all about being radiant.

This is Africa

Immerse guests in Kenya's vibrant culture with decor of kitenge, leso, and ankara fabrics, plus woven baskets and clay pots. Encourage traditional attire like kaftans and tribal accessories. Bring the event to life with Afrobeats from legends like Fela Kuti and Miriam Makeba, and serve African dishes like Jollof rice and harissa stew. This colorful theme celebrates Africa's spirit in style!

Masquerade Ball

For a sophisticated touch, host a Masquerade Ball with elegance and mystery. Decorate with rich colours like black, gold, and purple, chandeliers, and a ballroom setting. Guests wear formal attire—gowns for ladies, tuxedos or suits for men—with masks adorned with feathers and lace. Set up a red carpet and backdrop for photos, and serve hors d'oeuvres and signature cocktails. Perfect for large teams, this theme sparks intrigue and brings everyone together.

I have been here for both business and leisure multiple times.... definitely the best location on Moi South lake road side of Naivasha in terms of quality and standards. It is however on the higher end in terms of price but it is indeed good value for money.

I only stayed 1 night on my way to Lake Nakuru. The resort was clean and comfortable. Beds and pillows are comfortable, I slept so well. Beds are surrounded by mosquito nets as there are quite a few mosquitos. Food was good and the staff were so friendly and helpful. I would definitely stay again.

My stay at Enashipai was truly amazing. The grounds are beautiful, serene and green. The rooms are spacious, comfortable, inviting and cosy. The facilities are great and there is something for everyone! But what makes Enashipai truly something special would be the staff. Every single staff member I encountered was incredibly friendly, welcoming, hospitable and kind. The staff go out of their way to help and make your stay as smooth as possible. Truly the best customer service I have ever experienced. I will definitely be returning and also recommending Enashipai to others!

Enashipai is the best resort in Naivasha. Sits by the lake and has great views. I have visited it several times with my family. It's very secure and only 1hr to 1hr 30 min drive from Nairobi. The entire staff is very professional and friendly right from the gate, front office, to room attendants. Their food is also great. We always have a wonderful time and we will keep coming back. Thanks for making me feel welcomed and for always remembering us when we visit. See you soon.

I was one of the first to conduct a workshop at Enashipai when it first opened and the small conference room was semi-built.....so I was amazed to come back 14 years later and do the same at the excellent Entumo conference centre.

Staff, facilities, refreshments and audio-visual were everything you would expect from a 1st class conference facility. Rooms, food and general environment put the delegates at ease.

Above all, shout-out to conference manager Tabitha.....many of those folks hide behind the front line staff in their offices but she is out and about, never far away, super attentive, friendly and will go the extra mile to get the little things done.

OUTSTANDING all round from someone who is not easily pleased and must have used 50+ Kenyan conferencing venues.
